

MARY ELOISE BOLTON DODDS

age 59, of Saskatoon and Loreburn Sask., died suddenly on Wednesday, February 23, 1994, while visiting in Gravenhurst, Ontario.

Mary was born in Outlook, Sask. on August 5, 1934, and with her parents, Frank and Grace Bolton, brother Charles and sister Bette, grew up in Outlook, Radville, Yellowgrass, and Milestone, Sask. She attended Teachers' College in Moose Jaw, the University of Saskatchewan, and taught school in Outlook and Loreburn. In 1956 she married Bob Dodds of Loreburn. Together they spent the summers farming at Loreburn and the winter months in Saskatoon.

In the early years, Mary devoted herself to their four children, yet also gave a great deal of time and energy to her neighbours, and was always involved in many educational and community activities. In recent years she had an increasing and active concern for issues of social justice. She received her Bachelor of Education from the University of Saskatchewan in 1982, and in 1988 began studies in Diaconal Ministry for the United Church of Canada, primarily at St. Paul's United Church in Saskatoon. She was to be commissioned as a Diaconal Minister in May, 1994.

Mary loved reading, singing and playing the piano. She rejoiced in her mother's paintings and her grandchildren's drawings, and enjoyed theatre, music and movies. She found peace on the farm she shared with her husband and family: their growing garden, the birds and deer, her flowers -- the serenity of nature. She gained pleasure in helping others, and took a special interest in those who felt alone in their lives.

Above all she took great joy in her family: her husband Bob; daughter Leslie Ryan and son-in-law Thom of Gravenhurst, Ont. and their daughter Holly; son Bill of North Bay, Ont. and fiancée Leigh Runciman; daughter Marla Tonita and son-in-law Bill of Nipawin, Sask. and their children, Risa, Lara and Paul; son Bob and daughter-in-law Carol Willing of Toronto, Ont. and their children Grace, Hal and Jane; sister Bette Tusz and brother-in-law Louis of Cernavoda, Romania; brother Charles Bolton and sister-in-law Margaret of London, Ont.; and numerous relatives.

Her family, along with her many friends, love her and are thankful for her life.

OLIVER ALEXANDER BREADNER

Oliver Alexander Breadner passed away at the age of 91 in Outlook Union Hospital. Born on March 7, 1902 in Albion Ontario, he came west with his parents, Alec and Nancy Breadner where they homestead west of Hawarden. He attended school, leaving it at an early age to help out on his parents farm.

In 1935 he married Annie Pearl Baxter. The happy couple continued to farm west of Hawarden until the fall of 1968 when they retired to Hawarden. His passion in life was farming, the land, horses and cattle. He raised registered Hereford cattle for many years. He was a member of the Canadian Hereford association for many years. He also served as a telephone director for the west Hawarden area for over 20 years.

Upon retirement he took up fishing and watching the Hawarden Hawks ball team. He continued to live in Hawarden maintaining a steadfast loyalty to this village. He believed that Hawarden had everything you needed. He often said, "What more do you want."

He was predeceased by his wife Annie on July 26th, 1988. He is survived by his daughter Lois of Medicine Hat, Alberta, two grandsons Lee and Wayne of Red Deer, Alberta and one sister Mary Tastad of Saskatoon. He also has four nephews.

Obituary

Mrs. Marie Langager was born February 11, 1882 at "Stava gaar", Karmøy, Norway. She was the youngest of four children born to Jonas and Marie Olson Stava. She was the last surviving member of the family.

She left Norway for Canada in 1911 and was united in marriage to Didrik Langager at Medicine Hat, Alberta, on December 11 of the same year.

They resided on the homestead near Alderson, Alberta, until 1924 when they moved with family to Strongfield, Saskatchewan.

Marie Langager, always known as Maia to her friends, had a cheerful nature and a friendly disposition. She was little of stature, never too robust in health, but she had much energy and work was one of her best friends.

Throughout her life her Christian faith was never voluble, but was always steadfast.

Her husband, Didrik, passed away October 8, 1953, and since that time she has spent the summer months on the farm with her son Edwin, and the winter months either with the Hanson's in Trail, or at the Lutheran Sunset Home in Saskatoon.

This last year her health failed, her strength waned, and in the month of August she entered the Sunset Home for the last time.

On Monday morning, November 4, she was admitted to the City Hospital, and Friday morning, November 8, 1968 she passed away. Her age - 86 years, 8 months, and 28 days.

She is survived by her daughter, Mrs. Oliver Hanson, of Trail, British Columbia, her sons Melvin and Edwin of Strongfield, six grandchildren, and many friends.

May God bless her memory!

He played junior hockey with the Toronto Canoe Club during the 1911-1912 season and senior hockey with the R.J. McMillan team in Saskatoon during the 1913-1914 season. During his years of retirement, Mr. McKellar enjoyed his time spent at Waskesiu. Interment will take place in Woodlawn Cemetery. (Courtesy parking south of the Chapel on 4th Avenue at 25th Street).

Det er med uutholdelig smerte at vi John Johannesens venner er samlet for å skrive en siste hilsen. — Savnet han etterlater seg er så stort og så ubeskriveleig sårt.

Han ble brått revet fra oss i sine beste år. Vi har vondt for å forstå meningen. — Urimeligheten ved hans bortgang river i oss. — Det er grusomt, vi står så maktesløse tilbake. —

Han gav oss meget, vår kjære John. Minnene våre om han kan ikke fanges inn med noen fattige ord. Disse minnene vil alltid være med oss. Vi vil alltid huske hans enestående smil som alltid vekket glede, hans omtanke som alltid varmet sjelen og ga harmoni. Vi husker han som gledessprederen og samlingspunkt, en som ga oss styrke. Han var vårt forbilde på drivkraft og arbeidslyst.

Vi er så ubeskrivelig takknemmelige for å ha hatt ham blant oss, dog for en så altfor kort stund.

Vi deltar i sorgen med de nærmeste og takker for den åpenhet og trøst som de gav oss alle, til tross for sin egen dype sorg. Sammen finner vi styrke i de dyrebare minnene vi har om ham.

Vi lyser fred over hans minne.
