

Centennarian

Hannah Tastad celebrated her 100th birthday Monday at the home of a son in Saskatoon. Tastad was born Hannah Syhre in Pierpont, S.D., and married there in 1905. With husband Gustav, she moved to Glenside in 1907 to homestead. Ten years later, they moved to Hawarden and later lived in Loreburn. The Tastads celebrated their golden wedding anniversary in 1956, the year before Gustav died. In 1972, the centennarian moved to Saskatoon to live with her children. She has nine living children.
